

BEATRIZ DELGADO MENA

DIRECTOR OF PHOTOGRAPHY

PROFILE

I'm a director of photography with a passion for film and TV dramas and experience in documentaries and commercials as well. After studying a Masters degree in Directing Film and Television at Bournemouth University, I am enjoying tackling the challenges of the professional industry.

Over my academic life I have lived in five different countries and been enriched by their diverse cultures and people. This, coupled with my background in both journalism and media production, has given me a skillset and teamworking ability that has comfortably transitioned my career into film production. I'm now part of UK collective Illuminatrix Rising as well as Directoras de Fotografia, the female DoPs Spanish collective.
