

BEATRIZ DELGADO MENA

DIRECTOR OF PHOTOGRAPHY

PROFILE

I'm an award-winning director of photography with a passion for film and TV drama, with experience in documentaries and commercials. After studying a Masters degree in Directing Film and Television at Bournemouth University, I am enjoying tackling the challenges of the professional industry.

Over my academic life I have lived in five different countries and been enriched by their diverse cultures and people. Coupled with my background in both journalism and media production, this has given me a skillset and teamworking ability that has comfortably transitioned my career into film production. I'm part of UK collective Illuminatrix Rising and Directoras de Fotografía, the female DOPs Spanish collective.
